Property Tax Relief Bill Killed By Senate

Bill Falls 6 Votes Short Of Senate Approval

Property taxpayers in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley as well as those in San Diego County will not receive any relief on their property taxes this year.

A bill, AB 149—was killed as it moved into the Senate. It needed the "yes" of 27 senators and received only 21.

This bill would have provided $155 million in property tax relief. It would have reduced taxes for home owners here by 40 cents per $100 of assessed eveluation.

San Diego County would have received some $9,018,125 based on sales tax returns and the population count. The bill was designed to give tax relief to smaller counties as well as the larger ones.

AB-149 was the baby of John C. Veneman, (R-Medesto). It's death came from partisan politics. Governor Ronald Regan was behind the bill.

In effect, the bill would have kept the sales tax at 5 cents on the dollar. As it stands now, the sales tax will be cut to 4½ cents on the dollar as of October 1.

The extra half cent was going to be the basis of the tax relief monies that would have been turned over to the County governments.

Boiler Plate Charge

The County Supervisors Association of California in its publication "Tax Reducer" charged the Senate Finance Committee with a new gimmick called "Boiler Plate".

It said that the boiler plate amendment is a handy device that is being attached to any bill that reduces county costs.

It charged that it requires all money appropriated to counties under such a bill as AB 149 be given to the Legislature for its "noble action."

The State Legislature could extend the sale tax again but it is unlikely that such a bill could pass at the current time.

Senator George Miller of Contra Costa County and head of the Senate Finance Committee was quoted as saying that "The bill was both a farce and a hoax".

Supervisor Robert C. Dent of the Third District here said "This is something that I have fought for along with the other supervisors.

"I am discouraged that every time a property tax relief bill goes into the senate that it gets turned down because of partisan politics.

"It is even worse to see the people get tax relief turned down by those elected officials that had promised to do something about it.

"When sufficient pressure is put on the Senate and the Legislature, then we will get tax relief."

Three democrats joined in with the republicans in voting for the bill. They were Sen. Hugh Burns, Fresno, Randolph Collier of Yreka and Ralph Dills of San Pedro.

Two republicans voted against the bill. They were Richard Dolwig of Redwood City and Clark Bradley of San Jose.

Locally, San Diego republicans Jack Schrade and Clair Burgener voted for the bill while democrat James Mills voted against the measure.

Henry Boney, chairman of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors told this newspeper in June that the tax relief bill was going to be killed because a partisan battle was developing.

He said at that time that "Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh is attempting to kill the bill. It is a shame that we have gotten into a partisan issue between the Governor and Unruh."

Supervisor Dent said that the amendments to the bill was the major factor in its being killed.

The Senate Social Welfare Committee, at the same time, put together a property tax relief plan of its own.

The committee agreed to add a rider to a bill by Assemblyman Eugene Chappie, to provide $155 million to counties to pay for welfare services.

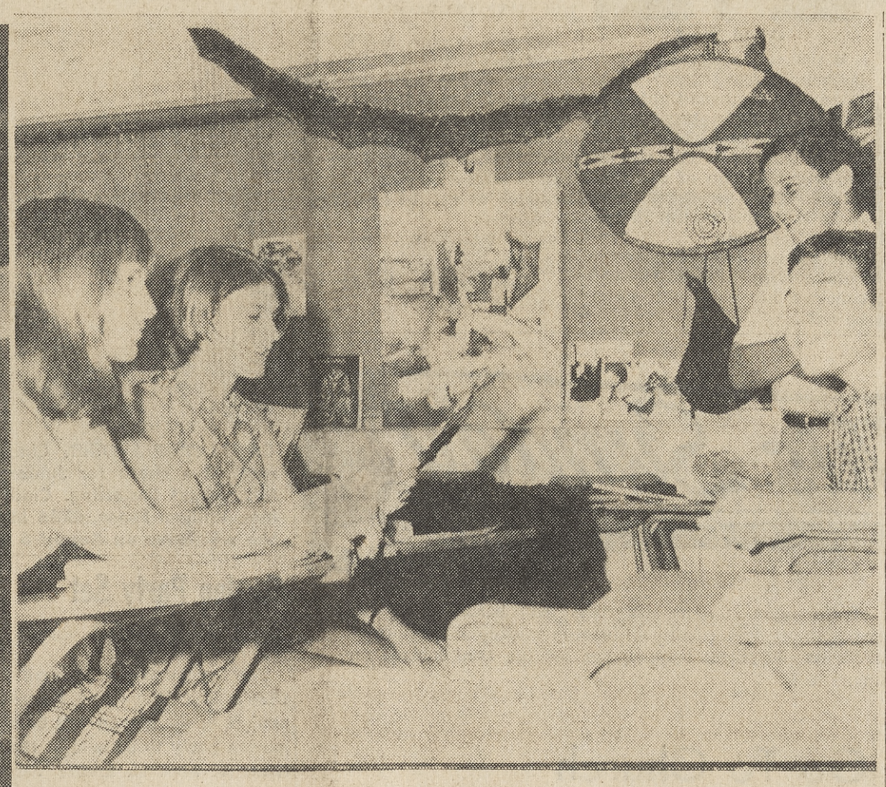
The committee said that the money would permit counties to reduce the property taxes that they now collect for welfare purposes.

The State Senate on Tuesday gave a dimmer look at any enactment of a tax cut before the Legislature adjourns this week.

The Assembly has been trying various methods of breaking Senate opposition to a property tax cut this year. They are trying to put in changes that would allocate $50 million for the poor schools and $155 million intended to force a cut in tax rates for local schools.

A bill containing some $200 million in bonds for high education construction which would have gone before the voters during the Nov. 5 statewide elections was also sent back to the Senate Financing Committee.

RECONSTRUCTION: Jerry Lipetzky, (left) program head gives a helping hand to aspiring archeologist Robert Graham (right) as they attempt to reconstruct a civilization developed by other Monte Vista High School students. The program, Cultural Anthropology-Archeology, is the only known program in the state and probably in the nation for incoming high school freshmen. Some 26 students are participating in the program.



LANGUAGE PROBLEM: Students taking part in a pilot program at Monte Vista High School in Cultural Anthropology-Archeology are shown as they try to crack a language problem for a simulated archeology probe presented by other incoming freshman students.
From left to right are Maureen O'Reilly, Sonjo Borbo, Richard Schulman and George H. Hellman. The group was working on the language problem while other members in their team worked in reconstructing various parts and objects to give them a clue of the culture that they are in the process of uncovering.

Monte Vista High School Frosh Take Part In Archeology Program

by Jack Pollard

Twenty-six incoming freshmen at Monte Vista High School are taking part in special program which has kept them busy during the summer months.

The program, Cultural Anthropology-Archeology, tabbed as the only one of its kind for freshmen, places the student in the position or an anthropologist or archeologist for the summer.

The students perform the same tasks that professional workers in the same field must do when out on assignments.

They are given the same basic indoctrination that professionals must complete before being able to make their way out on a field trip.

The pilot program is under the watchful eyes of Jerry Lipetzky, teacher at El Capitan High School in Lakeside.

Lipetzky, a UCLA, graduate, who teaches the geography, cultural antrophology and jazz during the regular school year said the students do most of the work on their own.

The program includes ground work set in motion by students of the year past. They build the foundation work for the new group.

Activity began in the student program after the regular school session came to an end. The students started their experience with three weeks of preparational indoctrination in class room work and research.

Lipetzke said, "In the first week, we expose the students to artifacts . . . things that are made by man. We give them artifacts from all over the world and let them figure out what it is, has been or its use in a culture.

We also ask the students to tell us basically of what culture and what type of people the artifacts come from. They are also asked to tell what related customs might come from the objects.

The teacher said, "You can tell from the artifacts, as archeologists do, the mode of a culture and in the way that man has adjusted his life and customs along with tradition".

"From there, we expose the student to theory of cultural antropology. This entails reading of difficult books for the student."

In the second week of indoctrination, the students learn the theory and methods employed by archeologists and anthropoligists in digging into an area for excavation.

Not "Pot" Digging

"The student learns that archeology is just not "pot" hunting. We tell them how to dig things from the ground and how to handle the material after they have found it," the teacher said.

The student must learn the geographical location and the effects of neighboring societies. He must understand the history and the physical description of the people that they are going to be dealing with.

Lipetzky said that they must be exposed to the primary needs of all societies. They have to understand the type of government, such as executive legislative and judicial functions.

Controls and forms of government must be taken into consideration. They must also comprehend the economic activity of various cultures.

Such definitions as wealth, sex and age division of labor, along with distribution and

Sunday Picnic

A large turnout is expected to be on hand at the Lemon Grove Park at Washington and Alton in Lemon Grove on Sunday, August 4 from 1 p.m.-9 p.m. to take part in "Appreciation Day." All residents of Lemon Grove are invited to attend the picnic.

The event, the first of its type to ever be held in Lemon Grove will honor those people who helped to make Old Time Days—1968 a success here.

The picnic is also going to be a day where the entire family can enjoy themselves and meet both civic leaders and fellow Lemon Grove residents.

Jim Dorman, president of the Lemon Grove Old Time Days Association said that formation of plans for the 100th Anniversary of Lemon Grove will be made.

This community will weave its centenial celebration into the overall picture of the City of San Diego's 200th birthday.

Music will be provided throughout the afternoon. The committee has arranged for a couple of "pep bands" to provide live music at various intervals throughout the event.

All of the supervisors of the San Diego County have been invited to attend the affair. Supervisor Robert C. Dent said that he and his wife will attend.

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Price of 'Police Brutality'

There was a rumor floating about that local police beat the bejeesus out of a young teenage narcotics pusher when he smarted off to them during an interrogation period.

We checked it out. It ain't so!

But the rumor gave us heart for the first time in a long time. Cops ought to be allowed to deal with a heavy hand on punks such as these — and some older ones, too.

When we heard the rumor an air of satisfaction attached itself to our psyche. The world can't be all bad if positive treatment can be given to lawbreakers who view law abiding society from a tilted point of view.

Maybe our view is tilted, too. But our viewpoint is no more tilted than that of a teenage peddler.

The first reaction to this report probably will be that of police brutality. Police have become the victim of that phrase as did Europe when Hitler shouted "living room". Police brutality is only as real as lawbreakers are able to make our bleeding hearts believe.

Before the idea of police brutality got today's currency what the cops did to us when we were kids was viewed as a necessary part of society. We got smacked across the rump a couple of times for just looking as if we were going to be smart alec. Strange, when a wrong doer shouts "brutality and a cop, under oath, denies it, most people believe the crook.

It wasn't a book of laws that made us fear to do wrong after that. It was God — and the cop on the corner.

Laws for young punks, such as the young narcotics peddler, are futile. These laws are as silly as some of the proposed gun laws. There isn't a thinking person in this nation who honestly believes that tougher gun laws will keep guns out of the hands of criminals.

Nor can law-abiding citizens understand the interpretation of the law by a San Diego judge who ruled recently against the police. The officer searched a man because he suspected a bulge at his hip to be a gun. It turned out to be a package of marijuana. The judge threw the case out of court because "an officer whose judgment is so poor as to think a package of marijuana is a gun, had to use poor judgment in making the arrest."

All right, let's take care of it the modern way. Take a leaf from the gun law book. They're going to ban shipping of long guns by mail. That's a partial solution. We propose that they ban a certain amount of slapping of lawbreakers. Let's give each cop the right to rough up five lawbreakers a day. Just so no one can charge favoritism, let's make it the first five each cop interrogates. Not mandatory, just permissive.

Under this program they could write off half the laws in the penal code. And joy would fill the hearts of the thousands of potential victims the law protects not at all.

Youth Job Center Reopens

The Youth Placement Service at Grossmont Union High School District headquarters was reopened yesterday on a full time basis after being closed for two months.

The closing was ordered by the state Employment Department so that effort would be centered on hard core unemployed in the center city area.

The office is being reopened by the District because of a "very real need for jobs for students in the District."

Job Placement Officer is Mrs. Virginia Shade.

"Many people think of our youngsters in terms of baby sitting and yard work. We can supply youngsters for that," Mrs. Shade said. "But many youngsters are capable of performing the higher professions such as typing, general office work, laboratory aides and accounting assistants. Some are particularly adept at tutoring," she added.

Kids Can Work Again – Hooray!

Somebody listens!

The Grossmont Youth Placement Service was reopened this week.

The Service, which got jobs for thousands of area kids, was closed by some sort of bureaucratic logic that figured hard core unemployed would be aided if job aid to our fine young-

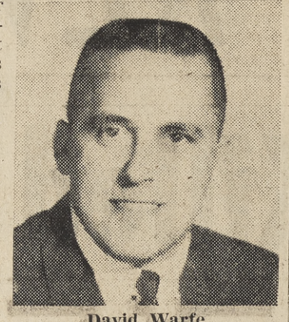
Warfe To Head Youth Programs

David Warfe, a Department Scheduler in Manufacturing Control at Rohr Corporation, has been chosen co-ordinator of youth ministry at the Lemon Grove United Methodist Church, it was announced this week by the Rev. Thomas Warmer.

Mr. Warmer said that Warfe will be responsible for developing a program that would make young people ministers to the community rather than the community the ministering agent to the youth.

Junior high through college will be his area of work. He will start immediately recruiting and training workers in this new, modern form of youth church work.

Warfe helped develop the Youth Program at the National City Methodist Church. Later he developed a similar program at the Chula Vista Methodist Church where he turned down a substantial salary increase to join Mr. Warmer. Warfe and Warmer are longtime friends.



David Warfe

Warfe was selected the first laymen in many years to be Dean of a Southern California-Arizona Conference Church Camp, a job nominally reserved for ministers. His specific job will be Dean of the Conference Youth Ministry Camp to be held this month in San Juan Capistrano.

Warfe will take up duties in Lemon Grove today. He will continue his post with Rohr, he said.

UFO Study Eyed By L. Van Deerlin

WASHINGTON — A Congressional investigation of unidentified flying objects (UFO) might help clear up a 21-year-old mystery, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, said this week.

"Since 1947, the American public has been tantalized by UFO — flying saucer — reports," the Congressman said. "Yet we remain in a state of abysmal ignorance about this phenomenon."

Van Deerlin said he is by no means convinced that "any of the UFO's reported so far has actually been carrying unearthly creatures on secret missions to our planet."

"On the other hand," he said, "I cannot share the smug complacency of the disblievers, who automatically assume that every sighting must either be a hoax or hallucination."

Seagulls And Man Both Fly High

By Jack Pollard

"Do you know what it is like to be up there with the seagulls?"

"It is great!"

These are the words of Fred L. Province of 1647 Enfield st., Spring Valley. It seems that Phovince gets up there with the birds almost every weekend.

Province, a National City School teacher, who is 35 is a licensed glider pilot. He has been flying gliders out of Brown Field, Chula Vista for one year this month.

He said, "I don't fly a glider.... I live with it. I can feel the slightest movement that is made while I am up there with the birds.

With only three instruments on the glider instrument panel you can fly by the seat of your pants."

The glider that Province uses weighs 350 pounds. On the instrument panel is a wind speed indicator, a compass and an altimeter.

"All three are easy to learn to read and use to the best of the flyer's advantage when airborne."

The craft, usually made of alluminum, costs in the neighborhood of $1,500 in kit form to a $12,000 factory made luxury glider.

The Spring Valley glider pilot who received his license after only 7 hours of flight time said that an average flight lasts for 20-30 minutes.

He said that some flights can last longer depending upon the skill of the pilot. Recently a glider-jockey out of Brown Field went from Jumal to Van Horn, Texas in 10 hours.

A power tow-plane is used to pull the gliders up to the 3,000 foot level. The pilot then pulls the release cord and he is on his own.

"I can fly at an average of 28 miles per hour with no vibration. There is no noise. You just move with the same currents that a bird uses."

"Properly executed, one can remain motionless . . . just hang there in the sky. It is a great feeling. You can float like a cloud."

The pilot said, "If you want to cut it up in the air you can... with no difficulty. A glider has the right of way over the power craft."

"You can put the glider down on a bed sheet if you have to. We used to have contests to see who could land the closest to a marked spot, but after some proctice we were all doing it, so we had to stop."

Province pointed out that in order to receive a license granted by the Federal Aviation Commissioner, you had to have seven hours of flight time in the air... or an equivalent of 30 sessions of instruction before a person can receive the certificate.

His son John, 14, is ready to make his first solo flight within the next two weeks.

He will be the first student at Brown Field to receive a license at the minimum age who has been in the learners program of the flying group.

In addition to private instructions and lessons, the glider organization GNATS, at Brown Field, has a program for Boy Scouts in the Grossmont District.

Province said that GNATS will provide to Boy Scouts, free glider rides and lessons for their merit badges. To date, Scouts from both Lemon Grove and Spring Valley have taken part in the program.

FATHER-SON TALK: John Province listens closely to what his father Fred has to say. John, who is 14 years-old will solo in glider flying at Brown Field sometime in the next few weeks. His dad, a National City school teacher received his pilot's uicense after some 7 hours flight time in the light aircraft. The father-son team live at 1647 Enfield st., Spring Valley.

What Our Readers Write To The Editor

When Ensign David L. Dillin, USN, son of Mr. and Mss. Geonge Dillon, of La Mesa, felt it necessary to say some vital things to his brother Michael Dilon, PNSN, USNR, he said it better than the Commander in Chief could have.

Because we think the communication is in the best spirit of American heritage, we are reproduring this part of it as a Letter to the Editor although the letter was addressed to Michael:

"I really don't know what to say to a brother who's going into a war zone shortly. I guess all I can say is do your job. I don't like the idea of getting shot at any better than you do but we're both under contract to the government.

"My job will be to sweep mines and stop junks. Yours will be to keep the myriad of paper the Navy uses to operate in some kind of order. Either way, it's a part of a total effort.

"You will find that a lot of things in the Navy are a drag. Other things are really enjoyable. Time can drag and time can fly. Make the most of your time in the Navy.

"It can be a rewarding and maturing experience. Sure, you and I are a part of the younger generation which wants to change a lot of things fast. The problem is they just don't.

"We have to get into the total culture to find out what it's all about, before we can effectively induce a change. Always look ahead, no matter what you are doing. Be yourself and learn to control your actions for your own betterment.

"Keep out of trouble and do things the 'Navy way.' The Navy's been around for a long time and knows pretty well how things work best. Do your best and do the job. Good luck to you and sock it to 'em."

Your Brother, Dave.

Dear Editor:

Quoting headlines, June 27, 1968 of your newspaper:

"66 Fires Recorded Last Month; Fires Plague Spring Valley." — And from context: "During the month of May, Spring Valley fire-fighters answered calls to 66 fires.

Obviously this is the fire season, but I wonder how many Spring Valley residents are aware Spring Valley firefighters pay scale is $100 to $150 less than fire departments of our neighboring communities? That probationary firemen (those just learning) in said neighboring communities receive just $70 less pay than First Class Firemen of Spring Valley with eight years experience?

Since 1961, our Spring Valley Fire Department has fallen behind in pay scales of other Fire Departments and appeals to Board of Directors Spring Valley Fire Protection District has produced negative results; the present wage scale will continue to be adhered to. Understandably, Chief Frank Berger feels it isn't fair for members of Spring Valley Fire Department to be so penalized, suffering deficiency in morale. Would you, if this was your profession, remain satisfied with the status quo, risking lives daily to preserve this community's lives and property? One wonders why, if this appeal isn't met, these men should continue to dedicate themselves to this community's welfare? Our Fire Department also fights alongside the better paid men in their communities when need arises. Quite a bitter pill-wot?

Lest we forget, the Board of Directors also serves the community, its purpose to provide financial wherewithal of taxpayers moneys that this department may operate efficientyl while judiceously guarding tax dollars and to meet demands of wage scale comparative to neighboring Fire Departments is going to up our tax rate. Result—deadlock.

Question—Do these neighboring communities value the services of their fire-fighters more than Spring Valley? Are we disinterested or unaware because the controversy hasn't been featured in public press? Do you care enough to pay for the very best, in a tax increase, for the fine service that has been rendered this community, or are you indifferent because your house isn't aflame, your loved ones have had no need to rely on the Department's emergency services?

No, this taxpayer has no axe to grind has no direct connection with Fire Department personnel, but over a decade ago, this Fire Department's emergency action saved my husband's life. This, somehow, I can't forget.

Mrs. C. R. Norris

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

What is the relationship between the Spanish words "somos" and "son" and what do they mean? These are taken from the verb "ser" which means "to be." Both "somos" and "son" are plural forms of "ser". "Somos would be translated as "we are" and "son" would be translated as "they are."

We may make a short phrase with each word. In the case of "somos," we may add "amigos" (friends) and form the phrase "Somos amigos." for "We are friends." We may add "alumnos" (students) to "son" and form the phrase "Son alumnos." for "They are students."

A common characteristic of "somos" and "son" is found in their requirement to have plural subjects. "Somos" must have the plural subject "nosotros." (we). "Son" must have either "ellos" (they) or "ustedes" (you) as plural subjects.

Occasionally "somos" is used without the Spanish subject "nosotros." When this occurs, the English translation includes tht subject "we". As a result, "Somos" and Nosotros somos" would be translated as "We are."

Care should be taken in pronunciation of "somos" and "son". An "oh" sound is used twice in "somos" which is pronounced "SOH-mohs." A singular "oh" sound is used with "son" and is pronounced "sohn." You may practice these words and others with the recorded voice when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Somos amigos." (SOH-mohs ah-MEE-gohs) for "We are friends."

Say "Son alumnos." (Sohn ah-DOOM-nohs) for "They are students."

USEFUL PHRASES

Say "Son ustedes turistas?" (sohn oo-STEHD-ehs too-REES-tahs) for "Are you tourists?"

Say "Si, somos turistas." (SEE SOH-mohs too-REES-tahs)

OTHER PHRASES

Say "Que son estas?" (keh sohn EHS-sahs) for "What are these?"

Say "Son sillas." (sohn SEE-yahs) for "They are chairs."

Church Denied Use Permit

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A special use permit for a church was denied by the county planning commission on Friday in its Lemon Grove decisions while permits for a golf driving range and a borrow pit were granted.

The Church of Christ was denied because of the inadequacy of the 92 by 472 foot lot both because of its size (one acre) and its shape.

The driving range permit was granted to K. R. Voska at 1809 Sweetwater rd. is a renewal of an expired permit.

The borrow pit is on the east side of Imperial 400 feet south of Mt. Vernon. The operation is expected to be intermittant and at its finish, the land will be a usable building site.

Nearby resident James Dorman, a lawyer, representing himself and others, said the main fear was that the operation might create excessive dust.

He said that if the rules against air pollution in the permit are enforced, he would not object to the permit which had been requested by L. H. Boone.

In a rezone action in Lemon Grove, the commission recommended the granting of a small section of C (light commercial) zoning for 6,650 square feet of land on the west side of Buena Vista, 127 feet south of Broadway.

The C-2 zone allows outdoor sales and operations, plus manufacturing uses.

Area Students Named To UC, Dean's List

The College of Agricultral and Environmental Sciences recently released a listing of the 195 students who have been named to the Dean's List for work completed through the spring quarter at the University of California, Davis.

In order to receive the honor ranking, each student must have completed at least 12 units of work in the college with an overall grade point average of 3.0 (B- out of a possible 4.0 (A).

Included on the list were: Ruth L. Headley, of Lemon Grove and Elizabeth S. Saarni of Spring Valley.

In Elizabethan times, bereaved families paid a poet to write a well-rhymed epitaph for the departed. Today, a more practical idea is to give a Heart Memorial gift in a loved one's name to honor his memory and serve the living. Ask your Heart Association for information.

Padres Re-Schedule Aug.-Sept. Dates

Because of the conflict with San Diego Charger home dates at San Diego Stadium, the San Diego Padres have re-scheduled series dates and times with two Pacific Coast League opponents during August and September.

In announcing the schedule change, Padre general manager Eddie Leishman said, "According to the Charger contract with the city in using the Stadium, the Chargers have first priority at any time in scheduling games there. As a result, we have been forced to change part of our home schedule."

In question are the August 16, 17 and 18 games with Denver and the September 5, 6, 7 and 8 games with Phoenix.

Leishman said that the August 16 game, originally set to start at 8 p.m., has been moved up to 7 p.m. The August 17 doubleheader has been cancelled because of the Charger-Pittsburgh exhibition game that evening.

Instead of a single, 1 p.m. game Sunday, August 18, there will be two seven-inning games starting at 2 p.m. One of the games is a make-up of one of the August 17 games. The other August 17 game has been cancelled.

In the September series with Phoenix, the Padres will play a 7 p.m. game Thursday, September 5, with the Giants instead of at 8 p.m.

The following day, September 6, the Chargers will open their regular season against Cincinnati and the Padres game that night will be postponed until the next night when they will play the Giants in a pair of seven-inning games starting at 7 p.m.

Sunday, September 8, when the Padres close out theeir regular schedule, that game will start at the usual 1 p.m. time.

Leishman added that the reason for changing starting times of the various games is at the request of the city in order to give workmen time to change the seating and configuration for either football or baseball.

Rockets To Stage First Pro Basketball Tournament At Sports Arena Oct. 3, 5

The San Diego Rockets will stage the first Professional Basketball Tournament in history October 3 and 5 at San Diego International Sports Arena to highlight an 11-game preseason schedule.

Announcement of the tournament and San Diego's preseason schedule was made today by Pete Newell, Rockets general manager. The two-day pro tournament, which will feature games at 7 and 9 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 3, and Saturday, Oct. 5, will be the Rockets only pre-season appearance at the Sports Arena.

Rocket coach Jack McMahon will send his second-year club against last year's expansion rival, the Seattle SuperSonics, in the 9 p.m. game Thursday after the power-laden Los Angeles Lakers collide with the San Francisco Warriors in the 7 p.m. opener.

The winners will battle for the tournament championship at 9 p.m. Saturday after a 7 p.m. game between the losers to determine third place in the tournament.

Victories in the opening round by the Rockets and Lakers would provide the first San Diego encounter between Elvin (Big E) Hayes, the Rockets' No. 1 draft choice, and the NBA's most valuable player, Wilt Chamberlain.

The Rockets will participate in a similar pro tournament and two other doubleheaders as part of their tuneup schedule for the 1968-69 campaign.

The Rockets open pre-season action September 28th at the Cow Palace against the San Francisco Warriors in the second-half of a twin bill which features the Lakers and Sonics.

Membership Drive Begins In Cub Scout Pack 318

An enlarged recruiting drive which will attempt to reach all area boys has been undertaken by Lemon Grove Cub Scout Pack 318.

The pack is gearing its efforts toward a record number of new members for the October 7 Scout Night to be held at Mount Vernon School.

"We have already personally contacted more than 60 boys from the Mount Vernon, San Altos and Monterey Heights schools and have had very favorable responses," said Cubmaster Gabe DeNunzio.

Pack 318 recently held an Olympic Games competition in which all scout age boys and their parents were welcome.

The next meeting will be a scavenger hunt, August 26, at Lemon Grove Park, starting at 6 p.m., and an open invitation is again being extended.

All Lemon Grove boys between the ages of 8 and 10 years or who will be entering the third grade in school this fall are eligible for scouting.

"Although we have tried to get a list of all the boys in the Lemon Grove area we have no doubt missed a few," DeNunzio said.

Because of this, he is asking that any boy who wishes information about Cub Scouting to please call him at 463-4903, or contact Mrs. Vernon Parker at 465-6387.

Highway 94 Improvement Work Slated

Minor safety improvements for various locations in State highways in San Diego, La Mesa and El Cajon with a total value of $46,000 have been approved by the California Highway Commission.

The work will consist of installing guardrail at spots where accidents are likely to occur if drivers lose control of their vehicles. The guardrail will divert vehicles away from sign structures or bridge abutments.

The highways approved for such modifications are Interstate 8 and State highways 94, 103 and 125. The funds will come from a special section of the California Division of Highwways budget that is set aside to enhance traffic that safety by adding engineering corrections to the existing system.

Foster Homes Needed For 50

More than 50 children are waiting to be placed in foster homes, according to Barbar Penn, of Foster Home Licensing, 220 S. First st., El Cajon.

In June, the licensing section received more than 100 requests from probation officers and social workers for homes for youngsters. At month's end, nearly 50 of these children are still waiting to be placed.

Some of these children are classified as "hard to place" because of physical or emotional problems. They will need exceptionally understanding foster parents. However, most only need a warm, stable atmosphere. Some are family groups of three or four children who want to stay together.

Licensing is necessary, but simple. It provides the agency with information to determine if prospective foster parents will be able to provide care and will be able to share the foster child with its natural parents and the agency involved.

The need is desparate, the agency said. Those who are interested should call 442-9671, ext. 315 or 234-8871, ext 245.

Speakers for groups can also be provided.

Young ducks hatch out in June, July and August.

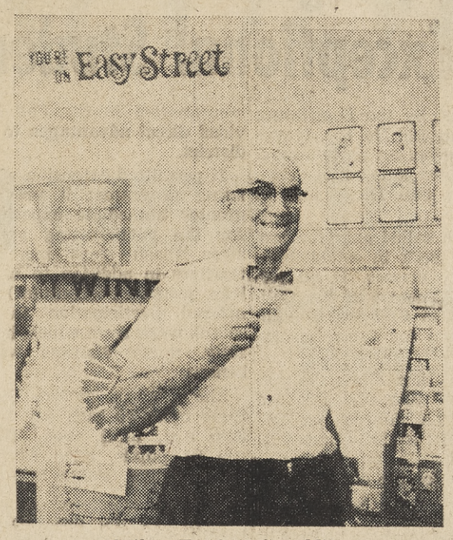
$1,000.00 WINNER in LEMON GROVE MAYFAIR "EASY STREET" GAME



Arthur E. (Art) Spaulding

Arthur E. (Art) Spaulding of 1513 Brooks Ave., San Diego, was an Instant Winner of $1000.00 at the Lemon Grove Mayfair Market on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Spaulding is 81 years of age, and the retired Press Room foreman of the San Diego Union-Tribune. He shopped at Mayfair Tuesday morning but did not look at his "Easy Street" ticket until he got home. When he saw the ticket he immediately returned to the market and checked with the Lemon Grove Store Manager, Ed Morgan. Mr. Morgan verified that his ticket was valid and that he had indeed won $1000.00.

Mr. Spaulding doesn't know yet how he is going to spend the money but says he feels lucky now and is going to attend the Mayfair drawings for 10,000 Blue Chip Stamps every Saturday afternoon at 4 P.M.

Mayfair and its entire staff extend congratulation to Mr. Spaulding.

Valley de Oro Team Falls Short In Tourney Bid

The Valley de Oro Little League team was bounced out of the District 41 Tournament Championships Saturday after 10 innings of play in a 6-4 loss.

The Spring Valley nine lost on a grand slam home run over the right center field fence by Jerry Brown of the Fletcher Hills entry.

The slam came in the bottom of the 10th with two men out. Valley de Oro was out in front with a 4-2 score moving into the bottom of the last frame.

Valley de Oro threatened to score in the second inning when they loaded the bases with nobody out. Bill Waltemier struck out the side to cap the threat.

In the third inning the locals scored two runs to move out in front with a 2-0 lead. Buddy McCombs and Danny Bradshaw were on by walks when Clay Smith slashed the first pitch off of the second baseman's glove to drive in one run. Doug Phillips singled in the other run.

It was the sixth inning when Fletcher Hills tied the game at 2-2. After Kevin Stevens walked, Dave Stanforth struck out. Tom Rundle go on with a fielder's choice while Stevens was forced as at second for out number two.

Bill Nulton, next, then hit a ball into right field for a double. Two runs scored on errors to tie the game.

It was in the top of tenth that Valley de Oro came alive. Clay Smith, with one out, hit a long fly to center field which looked like a home run. The center fielder knocked it down allowing Smith only a single.

Doug Phillips then got on with an error that scored Smith in a disputed play at the home plate. Fletcher Hills manager Dennis Buckles was ejected from the game for leaving the dugout without permission after the play.

Phillips then scored on a single by Mike Stevens which could have put the game on ice for the locals.

The game came to a close after Jerry Brown hit an 0-1 pitch for the grand-slam for Fletcher Hills to knock the Spring Valley nine out of the tournament.

Grossmont JC Registration Closes Aug. 30

Grossmont College is now preparing for what may be a record Fall enrollment. The College is preregistering students now.

Prospective new students have until August 30, 1968 to apply for admission to Grossmont College, but with priority for actual registration based on the date their formal application is received by the college.

New students should apply immediately to obtain a priority for registration and enrollment in the courses they choose.

According to Dr. Robert N. Burnham, Vice President for Student Personnel Services, all students, both new and continuing, must obtain a registration packet from the Counseling Center before they can register.

Joint Teaching Program Is Launched For District's Exceptional Students

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District along with San Diego State's School of Education have launched a joint program which they hope will relieve a critical shortage of teachers who specialize in teaching exceptional children.

During a six week portion of the college's summer session the two agencies have organized a two-class laboratory venture which utilizes 24 exceptional youngsters from the District who attend special classes on the campus.

They study, oblivious to a battery of closed circuit television cameras, tape recorders, still cameras, and to continuing groups of specialist observers.

The program is directed by Dr. Francis A. Ballantine, professor or education. Its purpose is to improve teacher training programs presently offered in California through development of instructional materials, research, demonstration and participation.

The initial venture, financed by $12,500 in State money, was authorized by the Legislature (Assembly Bill No. 65). It was placed into effect on two carefully seected state college campuses—in San Diego and in Fresno.

The bill called only for preliminary work in establishing laboratory classes. It authorized the Trustees of the California State Colleges to allocate ffunds for future operations.

At San Diego State the students and two teachers are from the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District. Charles R. Davis, coordinator of special education for the district, said his people were strongly interested because of a serious shortage of teachers trained to work with exceptional children.

He said there are no credential courses prescribed for teachers of the educationally handicapped. This program coupled with in-service and summer course work, Davis said, make possible the training of skilled teachers.

Davis said the joint summer program and the hoped-for continuation in the Fall provided direct advantages to his district.

It permitted extension of existing programs; it provided greater immediate experience for the participating youngsters (each class has two teachers in addition to a college professor-consultant); it offered participation in research work from which, hopefully, many districts would benefit.

The program at San Diego State operates each day from 8:45 a.m. until noon. There are 24 pupils, aged seven through nine, broken into two sections.

They are the mentally retarded (youngsters who can be educated eventually to become self sustaining), and the educationally handicapped (youngsters of both high and average ability who suffer emotional and or neuroligical problems that interfere with normal classroom participation).

Teachers taking part in the handicapped class are Mrs. Mary Carlson and Mrs. Fern Lewis from La Mesa-Spring Valley. Miss Barbara Trent from the San Diego Unified Schoo District, with the assistance of Donald Lenox, graduate assistant, teaches the class for the mentally retarded.

All areas of the elementary curriculum are covered, including reading, writing, social studies, spelling, arithmetic, physical education and science.

School work differs from that found in routine classrooms only in that the teachers provide special experiences and training needed by the pupils to strengthen their areas of weaknss.

Archeology

consumption practices must be investigated.

Hunting, farming, diet, shelttr and the types of transportation are also taken into consideration.

The family relationship must be viewed. Courtships, marriages, and kinship relationships are studied next. From there, the students move into religious behavoir or the beliefs and rituals of different cultures.

Language, the system of transmission, and their number systems also play an important part in the program. The arts that various peoples use are included in the study.

"All in all, the students are exposed to the habits, customs and the traditions of the living people of the work world along with those of the past.

Observation, description and the interpretation of cultures are the basic tasks that are incorporated in the program goals.

Bury Artifacts

Before the students are ready to move into the field to dig, they are split into two separate groups. Each group must construct a society, with a culture and language.

After this has been done, both groups break up their work and bury it in an area adjacent to the school grounds. It is then up to the opposite groups to dig up each others work and determine what the culture and history of their work entails.

The students then move in to the field to extract from the earth a model society and make their conclusions. Photographic records along with an archeological field specimen inventory record is kept.

The program, which will close out Friday will see the students making their final decisions on the artifacts that they have extracted from the ground in the form of a museum presentation.

Students taking part in the program include Kimberley L. Black, Susan Eurak, Dane A. Cawthon and Kerry W. Clark.

Pamela D. Collett, Karen Collier, Lorraine Ellis and Nanette Ferguson.

Roxanne M. Gallup, Robert G. Graham, John H. Gross and Tracey S. Hamilton.

sters who wanted to work was halted.

And halt it they did.

Just at the time that school was closed for the summer, some of the dunces in whom we place the trust of running our country, ordered the closing of the Grossmont Job Center. They said everybody should emphasize the hard core — whatever that means.

As a result we had scores of youngsters fanning out over the community seeking work. Those who applied at the hard core center were rejected. There was only a handful of jobs.

Those who came to this newspaper office were given whatever aid that could be offered. We hammered the Grossmont College job office, we bedeviled Clayton Swanson, chief of County Civil Service, and we heckled our friends. We were able to supply pitifully few jobs, though.

We had voiced our displeasure with the closing of the youth service in an editorial in this newspaper on June 6. To make certain the problem was not overlooked, we sent copies to the State Assembly and to the State Department of Employment.

This week the Service was begun again although the cost is being borne by the District.

For those having need for young, enthusiastic workers, or for youngsters needing jobs, contact the Youth Placement Service at Grossmont High School District.

Monte Vista Summer Basketball Team Closes Out With Dual Wins

by Scott McGaugh

The Monte Vista summer entry in basketball action has closed out season play with two victories over El Capitan, 42-40, and Lincoln, 44-42.

Numerous turnovers and constant fouls kept Monte Vista down in the first half against El Cap. The score was 23-18 at the halfway point against the Vaqueros.

The Monarch offense fell apart in the third quarter. Monte Vista scored one point in the entire third stanza as the Vaqueros lengthened their lead to 32-24.

Paul Loop came off the bench in the fourth quarter to lead a Monarch rally which ended up tying the game at 38-38 at the end of regulation play.

Hustle was the key to victory as excellent efforts from Randy Umbarger and Roger Sommers helped the roundballers to a victory at the end of the first overtime.

Roger Sommers was the leading Monarch scorer with 13 points. Jim Bristol followed with eight points. Then in the season finale against Lincoln, the Monarch team jelled for a 44-42 conquest.

Jim Bristol, Jim Krattli and Roger Sommers all helped to lead the Monarchs to victory. The win gave the Monarchs a 4-9 record for the summer season.

Monte Vista's summer water polo team officially got underway last week by losing a 10-8 decision to San Carlos. In the AAU-sponsored organization, the team is called Carman Ranch. Most of its members are Monarchs however.

Rick Ingrum and Dr. Phillips got Carman Ranch underway with two goals in the first half. Dr. Phillips is from San Diego State and is expected to lead the team this summer.

Despite being down 4-2 at the half, Carman Ranch came on to score four goals in the third quarter. The doctor was credited with three with ex-Monarch Bob Friend scoring the other.

San Carlos scored four of their own in the fourth quarter to win, 10-8. George Lindley and Dr. Phillips scored Carman Ranch's other two goals in the final quarter.

Carman Ranch's B team annihilated San Carlos' B team in the second contest, 9-2.

Pat O'Brien, of Carman Ranch, was high scorer with three goals. Brad Julihn, John Krattli and Mark Hodges all did well in the battle for Carman Ranch.

Ayers Hits Deddeh Vote Against Bill

Assembly candidate Bill Ayers, Republican nominee in the 77th District, today expressed opposition to the recent vote cast by Assemblyman Wadie Deddeh (D-Chula Vista) against AB 1024.

The bill would have allowed California high school bands to play at professional football games. The bill, defeated Friday, was introduced by Assembyman Pete Wilson (R-San Diego).

"The vote was cast on partisan lines," stated Ayers. "Witness the fact that the three Republican Assemblymen from San Diego County voted for the bill, and the two Democrats voted against it."

Currently, California high school bands can not play at professional football games, but bands from Nevada and Arizona can do so here.

AB 1024 would have changed this. A bill similar to this was introduced in the State Senate and is currently in the Govenmental Efficienry Committee, chaired by Senator Richard Dolwig (R-Redwood City.)

Ayers commented, "If our local high school bands are good enough for the Rose Bowl, they should be allowed to play at pro football games. I would have supported AB 1024."

A trace of rain fell on Saturday and .14 inches fell Sunday.

On July 6 .04 inches was recorded bringing the season total to .18.

The season starts July 1. Weather days end at 4 p.m.
